Dear Member,

SUPPLEMENTARY NEWSLETTER CONCERNING ESPD ANNUAL SCIENTIFIC MEETING, AMSTERDAM, 2014, AND ASSOCIATED BIODERMA AWARDS

As already advised in our previous Newsletter, the next ESPD Scientific Meeting, the 15th Annual Photodermatology Day is to be held in Amsterdam, The Netherlands on Wednesday 8th October 2014 from 13.30pm to 17.30pm in Amsterdam RAI Convention Centre, Room G104. The programme is attached here.

The event will be a Sister Society Meeting of the EADV as usual, taking place during the afternoon before the EADV proper begins. For this, the EADV Congress organizers require that all ESPD attendees pay either the full EADV registration fee if also attending the EADV Congress, or else a much reduced fee of €180 if just attending the ESPD event.

You will see there is once again an important "Free Communications" session in our programme. All are encouraged to submit an up to 250-word abstract for this (each presentation lasting 7 minutes plus a further 3 minutes for discussion), to be sent to the ESPD secretary, Dr Marie-Claude Marguery (marguery.mc@chu-toulouse.fr) by Monday 30th June 2014. If accepted for presentation by the ESPD Committee, the submission will be published in Photodermatology, Photoimmunology and Photomedicine, and the best presentation as also adjudged by the ESPD Committee, will receive a €500 prize, very generously contributed by Bioderma. We now look forward to receiving your abstract.

In addition, a €500 prize will be awarded for the best photodermatology poster accepted for display by the main EADV Congress, in the opinion of the ESPD committee, again very generously contributed by Bioderma.

I would like to remind you the Second European Photodermatology course in Dublin on the 16th and 17th May 2014 which is organized by Gillian Murphy on behalf of the ESPD. I encourage those who have junior staff wishing to enrol to do so now as there is a limited
